Quad Jet Wand

This private label wand from Production Metal Forming is made exclusively for Karcher. This wand has a much greater effect on the end results of cleaning and drying than most people realize. A wand that has full-flow vacuum design does a much better job of extracting soils and solution which, in turn, leaves a cleaner carpet and nearly dry to the touch, thereby reducing total drying time.

Prochem's Quad Jet wand is made of high grade stainless steel, with the head being a one piece stainless steel casting, which means no overlap joints, welds, or potential sharp edges. The polished head with super smooth wand slot surfaces not only look professional to your customer, but also glides smoothly over the carpet for less fatigue and increased productivity for you.
