Note: "The factory markets tool as 'internal spray' and it is not. "Internal spray" would be defined as a single slotted tool where by the spray slot and vacuum slot are a shared slot for bi-directional cleaning. This is not the case. This is a closed spray tool with two slots on slot for spraying and one for recovery. This is not a bi-directional tool and only cleans one direction. In this tool the stainless wall between the spraying and sucking is slightly elevated off the fabric. This combined with a more angled or sheared spray allow high water pressure to shear over the top of the fabric thereby over wetting the fabric. This allows the tool to be used in high pressure environments so you can use the tool with high pressure portables and truck mounts that traditionally clean in the 400 to 500 psi range. The is a private label Production Metal Forming wand and uses a PMF valve. This is a very high quality tool and feel this tool would cut the cleaning time in half on any partition, wall, boxy furniture or mattress cleaning job in half."
